Why choose homestay?

Living in a homestay has many advantages. Most importantly, you have the chance to practise your English throughout your stay, to interact with local people and to immerse yourself in the local culture and language. We choose our homestay families very carefully, both for the facilities they have to offer and their ability to give you the warmth and welcome of a home-from-home experience.

What do hosts provide?

At your homestay you will eat meals with the other members of the household and share the common living areas. You are provided with a single room, or shared room if required, breakfast and dinner every day and a quiet place for study. You can also request a private bathroom or self-catering instead of half-board.

Location

Homestays are located in residential areas of Edinburgh, typically 30-40 minutes from the college on good bus routes. When you arrive, the host will show you how to get to Basil Paterson on Monday morning.

Please note
